For the unobtainable block in Bedrock Edition with the same name, see Stonecutter (old).

This article is about the block. For the character in Minecraft: The Voyage, see Stax Stonecutter.

A stonecutter is a block used to easily craft many stone and copper blocks, and is cheaper than normal crafting for stairs and copper variants. It is also a job site block for mason villagers.

Breaking

A stonecutter can be mined using any pickaxe. If mined without a pickaxe, it drops nothing.

Block	 Stonecutter
Hardness	3.5
Tool
Breaking time (sec) ^[A]
Default	17.5
 Wooden	2.65
 Stone	1.35
 Copper	1.05
 Iron	0.9
 Diamond	0.7
 Netherite	0.6
 Golden	0.45

Legend

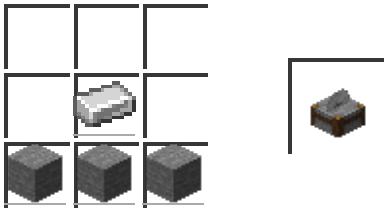

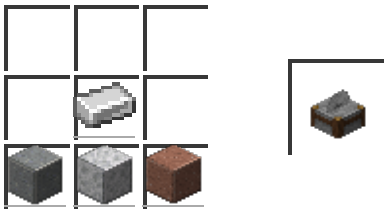

-  incorrect tool, drops nothing
-  correct tool, drops nothing or something other than the block itself
-  correct tool, drops the block itself
- * italicized can be instant mined

1. These durations ignore other influential factors (e.g., Mining Fatigue) and are measured in seconds. For more information, see Breaking § Speed.

Natural generation

Stonecutters can generate inside mason houses in villages.

Crafting

Ingredients	Crafting recipe	Description [hide]
Iron Ingot + Stone		Can use stone only, no variants. [Java Edition only]
Iron Ingot + Any Stone		Can use stone, granite, diorite, andesite, and their polished variants interchangeably. [Bedrock Edition only]

Usage

Cutting

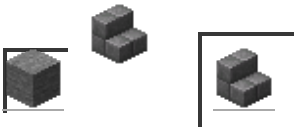

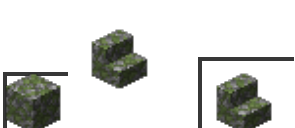

The stonecutter can be used as an alternative to the crafting table to craft most stone-related blocks. All of its recipes require just one ingredient and produce one product (in varying quantities). It allows skipping steps to craft certain blocks; for example, a stone block can be directly turned into chiseled stone bricks, something that requires multiple steps when crafting. It can also be used to cut brick related blocks, such as resin bricks.

Stonecutting is also more efficient than crafting for certain recipes. Crafting stairs is more efficient with a stonecutter than a crafting table, as 6 full blocks are crafted into 4 stairs, while stonecutter yields 1 stair per full block. The recipe for cut copper is even more efficient: with stonecutting, 1 block of copper turns into 4 blocks of cut copper, allowing the amount of copper blocks to be quadrupled.

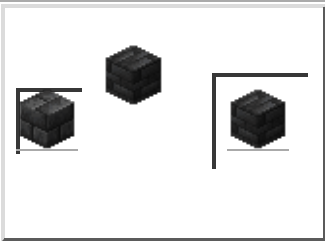

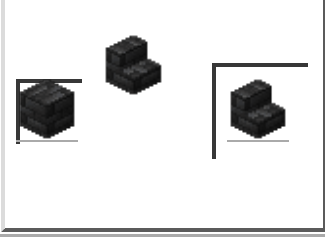

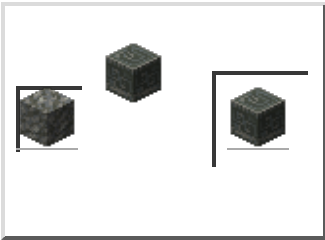

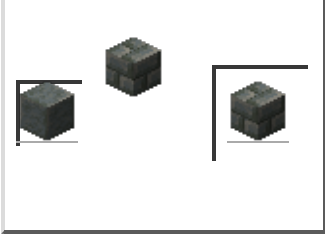

The GUI contains a block selection menu that is empty. The menu is populated with blocks that can be crafted from that particular material, only if a block is inserted into its input.

Interface for the stonecutter in Java Edition, cutting a stone into two stone slabs.

Profession

Main article: Job site block

If a stonecutter has not been claimed by a villager, any nearby unemployed villager has a chance to change their profession to a mason and claim the stonecutter as their job site block.

Note blocks

Stonecutters can be placed under note blocks to produce "bass drum" sounds.

Trivia

- Even though the iron blade appears to be spinning rapidly, it deals no damage and has no hitbox.
- The stonecutter was most likely based on the old stonecutter from Bedrock Edition, as it has similar functionality.
