Obsidian + Eye of Ender

Natural generation

Ender chests naturally generate alongside a chest in certain End city treasure rooms.

Usage

Ender chests can be opened by pressing the use control. If a solid block is placed above an ender chest, it cannot be opened.

Ender chests can be used like normal chests, except all ender chests in the world are interconnected, including in different dimensions. The ender chest's inventory is also separate for each player; consequently, items stored in an ender chest cannot be seen or taken by other players. Items stored inside of an ender chest remain even if the player dies. If an ender chest is destroyed, the items inside it are not dropped and can be retrieved again by accessing or placing another ender chest. Because of this player-specific property, ender chests are useful on multiplayer servers to secure valuable items.

Donkeys, mules, and llamas cannot be equipped with ender chests; they support only normal chests.

Ender chests contain 27 slots for storage and can be placed next to other ender chests without joining; they cannot be combined into double chests. It is possible to greatly increase the space of an ender chest by pairing it with shulker boxes (i.e. filling the shulker boxes with desired items, then placing them inside the ender chest). Placing 27 shulker boxes in the ender chest increases the storage space to 729 slots.

Ender chests do not interact with hoppers, droppers, or comparators.

Despite being made of obsidian, an ender chest is not immune to destruction by the ender dragon.^[1]

Light source

Ender chests emit a light level of 7.

Note blocks

Ender chests can be placed under note blocks to produce "bass drum" sounds.

Piglins

Piglins become hostile toward players who open or break an ender chest.^[2]

Piston interactivity

Ender chest cannot be pushed by the piston, and cannot be pulled by the sticky piston.

Inventory

The contents of an ender chest are not stored in the block, but in the player-NBT under the tag `EnderItems`^{[Java Edition only]}/`EnderChestInventory`^{[Bedrock Edition only]}. Thus ender chests can be viewed as "portals" to a player's 27 additional slots of secure and exclusive inventory, which are not lost on death.

Trivia

- Because an ender chest's particles exist only in a 1 block radius around the chest, the particles from a chest placed next to a wall are not seen on the other side.
- Unlike chests, changes to an ender chest's name are not reflected in its inventory GUI.^[8]
- Ender chests that have their name changed will lose the name when mined with a Silk Touch enchanted pickaxe.
- Ender chests render as a full block when in the inventory, but not when held or placed.^[Bedrock Edition only]^[9]
- Ender chests cannot be locked by NBT tags.
- The texture of ender chests does not change during Christmas in contrast to trapped chests and normal chests.^[Java Edition only]
- Mining an ender chest with a wooden pickaxe takes the longest time in the game (16.9 seconds) to mine a block with the correct tool, without the effect of Mining Fatigue and other mining speed reduction events.
- In Java Edition, an ender chest produces obsidian particles when breaking and walking or falling on it, while in Bedrock Edition, an ender chest produces particles of the block itself.^[10]
